

Carolina ENT/HNSC and Carolina Audiology are pleased to announce that Julia McDowell, Au.D will be joining our practice as a clinical audiologist in June, 2017.

Originally from Cocoa, Florida, Dr. McDowell graduated from the University of Central Florida with a BA in Communication Sciences and Disorders. She completed her fourth year externship at Children's of Alabama and earned her doctorate degree in Audiology from East Tennessee State University in May, 2017. She also gained valuable clinical experience at Bristol Regional Speech and Hearing Center, Johnson City Community Health Center, and Mountain Home VA Medical Center where she worked extensively with a diverse patient population including pediatric patients, mentally disabled individuals, and Veterans.

Dr. McDowell's special audiological interests include pediatric audiology, diagnostic and ABR testing with a goal of providing quality hearing care to children and parents close to home. Outside the office, she enjoys building furniture with her husband and having adventures with him and their children.
